

Now That's Italian!

The Arena di Verona has frequently offered videos of performances going back decades. This class will be about enjoying these historical and 'over the top' performances. Since the operas are too long to be covered in one session, I will record each class so that you will be able to re-view each act. There will be time for discussion and reactions. The world's greatest singers, conductors and designers are eager to be part of the annual summer festival. They strive to give their best to earn the cheers of the 20,000 audience members! All videos will have English subtitles.
