Your Story Painted in Words

Express yourself through memoires or stories. Share your work aloud with classmates. Exercises during class will assist you in connecting with your inner writer. Achieve increased understanding and appreciation for your lived experiences and stories.

New and experienced writers, bring your creativity for an interesting writing experience. The purpose of Your Story Painted in Words is to write as a form of expression rather than focusing extensively on writing technique and critique. Class members are encouraged to write and share aloud, although sharing is not required.

Writing is a powerful medium for recording life stories. Writing about past events provides opportunities for self-exploration and new understandings. Sharing increases motivation for further investigation. This course offers the opportunity to record and pass down personal histories to future generations. Exercises in class such as clustering, topic ideas and prompting questions provide stimulation. Bring your creativity and enjoy painting in words.
