

Computer Workshop Content

This class is a hands-on workshop intended to help the students use their modern electronic devices, especially portable computers and telephones. The class content will be determined by students' questions and problems. If possible, the students should bring their computers/devices to class.