

O Spanish Reading and Conversation

Course Content Document:

This is a continuing, advanced intermediate class which will be conducted primarily in Spanish but with English explanations as required. It is primarily a Spanish discussion group where students can practice speaking Spanish so it is expected that students will be able to understand simple Spanish conversation. Each class will begin with a general discussion of weather, current events, and an opportunity for students to present something of interest to the class. We will then break into small groups where we explore some common Spanish constructs and can practice them in an informal setting. Each week there will be a short reading assigned which we will read aloud in class and discuss what has been read. Finally, to close out the class, we will have a song which will be used to discuss points of grammar and an opportunity to sing along.
