

Vocabulary and More Vocabulary

In response to the request made by students, this intermediate level course will provide opportunities for acquiring a wealth of vocabulary.

In the context of searching for a home, the student seeks the help of a real estate agent. The agent guides the client to an apartment, to a country home, to a “hôtel particulier”, to an HLM, to a mansion, to a château. During each visit, the client asks questions about the neighborhood, the style, of architecture, the appliances, the furniture and so on. At the end of this virtual visit, students will be able to choose a dwelling and explain the reasons for their decision.

The instructor will send a weekly lesson, power point, to the students prior to the lesson.

Although the course is online, there will be many opportunities for interaction.
