

Each session will have a guest speaker in different areas of health care. After a presentation by the speaker, there will be time to ask your own questions. There is no preparation, but a list of the speakers and their dates for presenting may help you prepare your questions. The presenters are local specialists in their fields.