

The Meadow Movement

Course Content

We will examine the background and approach of several practitioners of The Meadow Movement, and the rationale for this manner of planting. We will discuss the problem with lawns. We will view examples of their gardens, and explore the palette of plants used, as well as the how and why their selection. Seasonal appearance, plant competition, and succession will be considered.