

Film Studies: Quintessential Noir

Course Description

This class will introduce the students to the uniquely American genre, Film Noir, that emerged during WWII and its aftermath. Prior to the viewing of the movie, a comprehensive overview of the making of the movie, its director and actors will be presented, as well as specific things that students should look during the showing. Afterwards, there will be a discussion. Each week a different film will be shown in its entirety.

Weekly Layout: