

Each week, a different form of creative nonfiction writing will be explored. Writing memoir will review writing techniques that will make the piece more entertaining for readers. Topics will include writing about different times in your life.

Nonfiction topics will include personal essays, journalism, biography, narrative (similar to memoir except you write about someone else).

Each lesson will include writing in and out of class.