

Cutting the Cord: I did it, you can too!

Course Description

If you have been wondering whether you could do without cable/dish TV, easily and happily, this class is for you. Primary focus will be on streaming, but we will touch on broadcast options and alternatives to cable internet.

This is primarily a lecture/demonstration. There will be hand-outs to help you analyze your household's viewing habits and optimize your budget.

Weekly Layout:

(Not sure if you need more information here, but this is a more granular view of content)

How much are you paying?

What do you actually watch?

How streaming can give you a customized viewing menu and potentially save money

Demonstration of how a Roku turned an old stupid TV into a "new" smart TV for my guest room.

Is broadcast TV right for you?

Are you a candidate for WiFi internet?

A surprising bonus: you too can become a "new customer"
